DON'T INVITE YOURSELF TO BE A VICTIM

• Laptops, purses, iPads, portable navigation, and other electronic devices continue to be popular targets. Many people leave valuables in plain sight, or keep their cars unlocked. Keeping items hidden, or secured in the trunk (or in your house) can prevent opportunist thieves from gaining access to your valuables. Don't forget to lock your car, but remember that car windows won't stop a determined thief.

 A long-time method used by burglars has become more common in the areas we patrol: A stranger knocks at the door. They might ask for a person who does not live at the residence, or offer a service for which they have no license. If no one answers, after a quick look around, the burglar or his friends enter through a rear window or door, often by smashing a window to gain access. If you're home, answer the door, or at least make noise to send a message that someone is home. Watch for solicitors in your neighborhood and ask for a business license. Any legitimate sales person will carry identification. If you encounter unlicensed solicitors, persons asking random questions at your door, or unfamiliar vehicles in your neighborhood, call the police

WHAT TO DO BEFORE A CRIME OCCURS

- Get to know your neighbors, and form your own informal neighborhood watch. Report suspicious persons and vehicles in your neighborhood.
- If you become the unfortunate victim of theft, it will be important to accurately describe and identify any stolen items. Keep records of your valuables with serial numbers, such as electronics, bicycles, power tools, cameras, and other items popular among thieves. Write down brand, model numbers and serial numbers of items when you purchase them; packing boxes and instruction manuals often contain this information. Photograph jewelry and other non-serialized valuables.
- To form a neighborhood watch in your neighborhood, contact Sergeant Ruben Enriquez at (626) 355-1414.
- To report in-progress crimes and other emergencies, call 9-1-1. To report suspicious activities, past crimes, disturbances, or other routine matters, please call (626) 355-1414
