POLICE BLOTTER REPORT
July 1-7, 2013

Wednesday July 3, 2013

At 2pm, a resident in the 300 block of Adams Avenue returned home and observed that her front door was open. She immediately notified police. The investigation revealed that between the hours of 11am and 2pm, an unknown suspect entered the residence by smashing a rear french door window. The suspect(s) went through several rooms and thoroughly ransacked one of the bedrooms. The victim was able to determine that jewelry, watches an iPad and an iPod were removed from the residence.

Thursday July 4, 2013

Overnight, an unknown suspect removed a guitar and amplifier from a vehicle parked in a driveway in the 300 block of Sierra Madre Boulevard. The owner of the vehicle believed he had locked the vehicle, but there was no evidence of forced entry.

At 10pm, a major traffic collision took place at Santa Anita Avenue and Oakwood Avenue. A red Jeep travelling south in the northbound lanes of Santa Anita Avenue collided with a vehicle turning left onto Oakwood from southbound Santa Anita Avenue. The impact caused the Jeep to flip over on its side and slide several yards further south on Santa Anita Avenue. When emergency units arrived the driver of the Jeep was unconscious and trapped inside. Emergency crews required 45 minutes to extract him from the vehicle. He was transported to Huntington Memorial Hospital for treatment. Two occupants of the other vehicle were seriously injured but a passenger in the rear seat survived without injury. Shortly before the collision, a witness observed the Jeep travelling north on Santa Anita Avenue at a high rate of speed and passing vehicles on the right. The investigation is continuing.

Friday July 5, 2013

A resident in the 00 block of Auburn Avenue returned home from vacation and found damage to the rear door of the house. There was evidence that an intruder had entered the residence by prying the door with a tool, but the victim did not detect that any property was removed. The observations of a witness indicate that crime may have occurred during the evening of June 26, 2013.

Saturday July 6, 2013

At 6:45pm, an altercation took place inside the Mountain View Sushi Restaurant at 24 West Sierra Madre Boulevard. A dispute between a patron and an employee took place which escalated into a physical fight. The parties sustained minor injuries and a window was broken during the short fight. Both parties requested a private person's arrest against the other and they were processed on the charge of Battery.
