

Movie Reviews by Sophia Duran & Stephanie Vitale

Water for Elephants

Starring Robert Pattinson & Reese Witherspoon

Stephanie: Impressive production values, but the central "love story" fell flatter than a punctured Big Top tent.

Sophia: This horrendously boring movie did not do the book justice!

Stephanie: As a couple Pattinson and Witherspoon utterly failed the chemistry test & were embarrassingly miscast.

Sophia: The "love connection" between Witherspoon and Pattinson was totally unbelievable.

Stephanie: A brooding, moon-eyed Pattinson spent most of the film inexplicably longing after an oddly uptight and wooden Witherspoon.

Sophia: This circus of a story made me thirsty for a good script.

Stephanie: Rosie the Elephant is the only actor who earned her feed in this anemic film (Be aware there are harrowing cruelty scenes).

Sophia: Although Rosie was the only "actor" worth watching, animal lovers should think twice before viewing.
